Viewer's Guide: NCIS (2003)

Overview

"NCIS" is a long-running American television series that premiered in 2003. The show revolves around a team of special agents who investigate crimes connected to the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps. The series explores a wide range of cases, from murder and espionage to terrorism and stolen submarines.

Plot

The show centers around the Naval Criminal Investigative Service (NCIS), a division of the U.S. Department of the Navy's Office of the Director of Naval Intelligence. The NCIS team is led by Special Agent Leroy Jethro Gibbs (played by Mark Harmon), a seasoned and charismatic leader with a no-nonsense approach. The team consists of a diverse group of agents, each with their unique skills and personalities.

Throughout the series, the NCIS team investigates cases involving U.S. Navy and Marine Corps personnel, often uncovering complex plots and conspiracies. The team's cases often involve murder, terrorism, espionage, and other crimes that threaten national security. Along the way, they encounter a variety of suspects, including rogue military personnel, foreign spies, and civilians with secrets to hide.
